ON BROADWAY!

The eighth annual Danceology recital is closer than we all think. Our intent, as always, is to have a themed concert in a concert hall that is comfortable for all the dancer's families and friends. We are pulling out all the stops. The staff has come together and decided to take our students and families on a journey through some of Broadway's most famous musicals. While the staff and dancers are excited themselves, we are also planning to provide for a very entertaining show. We highly encourage ALL students to participate in the recital as this is generally the culmination of their training. This is the big opportunity to really be on a stage in front of big lights and be in fantastic costumes! Students wishing to take part in recital MUST be registered students and cannot be drop-in students. No Exceptions. This entire packet contains all the details and answers to any questions you should have regarding the recital. In order to run an efficient dress rehearsal it is imperative that all performers be ready to step on stage at any time. Girls in multiple dances will be assigned dressing rooms.
- ◆ During the dress rehearsal, parents will be allowed to sit in the audience. All performers that are not in multiple dances, will be sitting in the audience with their classes.

All the important dates are posted in the studio as reminders; recital newsletters will be disseminated as the months go by. It is important to stay involved in the recent happenings of all recital related details. Please be responsible and ask questions when unsure. We vow to do our best in communicating with you and do understand your busy family lives – please stay abreast of all information and note all important dates.
